It's All About The Partnership | Equipment Financing

The Sale is not Complete Until the Financing is in Place

Regardless of the equipment you sell or the cost, your sale is not complete until the financing is in place. Successful equipment vendors whether they be manufacturers, distributors, importers or dealers, all utilize financing to show they are “easy to buy from” and their products are “affordable”. Proactively offering financing by incorporating a monthly payment with every sales quote significantly speeds up the sales cycle, decreases discounting and often increases the overall sale when the customer adds additional items once they see the small incremental increase in the monthly payment.

Amur Equipment Finance (AmurEF) professionals have a long history of offering creative and flexible finance programs that lead to more sales for our vendor partners. In a world where equipment financing has become a commodity, our creativity in designing custom finance programs for our vendor partners sets us apart from other finance companies.

Courteous, professional service coupled with rapid credit turnaround and prompt vendor payments are only the beginning at AmurEF. We can process and approve the widest range of credits from A to C credits at structures that are agreeable to your customer. This leads to more sales for you. Our application only programs offer same day turnaround and our financial disclosure applications are reviewed and approved before our competitors even understand them.
